

Hello, my name is Tom Simpson and I live in Stafford County, Virginia. I am a professional actor and am writing to you as an avid radio listener in the Washington, DC area who has witnessed a dumbing down of our local airwaves. When I first came to the DC area there were a number of local stations that had their own flavor. Not just another Country/ Top 40/ Oldies/ Classical clone. Slowly but surely they have been all but eradicated from our dial. Please, don't allow our airwaves to be commandeered in the same fashion as our retail environment - more product but less variety and fewer services. Thankyou.
